About The Samohi Orchestras Program

Santa Monica High School (Samohi) is a public school in Santa Monica, California with a more than 120 year tradition of musical excellence. The Santa Monica Malibu Unified School District has strong elementary and middle school music programs which feed into the acclaimed upper school program, as well as a very supportive community, an outstanding music faculty, enthusiastic administrative support, and most importantly, dedicated parents and students.

Samohi Orchestras offers opportunities to all interested musicians, regardless of experience or financial circumstance, ranging from entry to advanced levels, with seven orchestras offered to nearly 300 students every year. The funds raised by SMAPA Orchestras (Santa Monica Arts Parents Association) to support this program cover the expenses for instrument replacement and repair, sectional small group instruction taught by professional coaches, scholarships for private lessons, and much more.

Students in the Orchestra program at Samohi consistently excel in their academics and their music accomplishments. Each year, Samohi sends a record number of musicians to Honors Orchestras at the regional and State level, and travels nationally and internationally to perform in top venues around the world.

Samohi's concerts year round are open for the community to enjoy, and are typically held at the historic Barnum Hall theater on the Samohi campus.

About The Event

Spaghetti & Strings is a long-standing annual tradition at Samohi, serving as our annual fundraising gala, concert and benefit auction.

Celebrating 22 years in 2026, it brings the entire program together to celebrate and build community, while raising critically needed funds to support the orchestra program. Featuring performances by the top orchestras in an elegant setting, the evening also has both a silent and live auction of items donated from businesses throughout the community. It is a highlight of the year for parents, staff and musicians alike, and an excellent opportunity for business to support youth arts education, and connect consumers.
